Part-Time Courier Opportunity

Retirees Welcome

Eastern Analytical, Inc. is a Concord, NH-based environmental testing laboratory that employs part time workers to transport materials to and from customer locations. Drivers are assigned day trips to carry out this mission – weekdays only, no overnights and no weekends. Pay is $11/hour.

Eastern Analytical provides everything needed – vehicle, fuel, navigation assistance and all insurance. Drivers select their own workdays each month.

Candidates should have a clean driving record with NH DMV, enjoy driving, have a basic understanding of practical navigation over New England roadways, be detail oriented, and be able to present a positive company image to customers.

If you believe this is you, we would like to talk! To take the next step and complete an application please contact:
